Change is coming

Several factors are at play in today's complex digital workplace such as:

- Rapid technology evolution and shortage of skilled IT support professionals
- Overwhelmed IT support teams with high volumes of day-to-day maintenance tasks
- Growing number of devices and platforms to support
- Office, remote and hybrid workplace support needs, as well as flexible hours
- Poor employee experience (EX) impacting employee morale, productivity, and even increasing employee churn

Complex IT, one simple support solution

From SMB to global enterprise, companies across the globe have to adjust their IT solutions to meet the needs of the post-pandemic world. This includes IT support solutions.

They may have slightly different expectations of what they expect from an external IT support service, but one consistent challenge is how to combat the ever-increasing complexity of the IT environment which requires more resources, knowledge, and manpower than ever before.

Thrive don't just survive

Digital workplace. Hybrid workplace. Transformed workplace. Whatever label we put on it, keeping your device fleet optimized and your internal customers happy and productive is a huge challenge.

Working remotely or on the road brings specific PC support challenges such as everyday mishaps, and device failure, as well as overcoming problems around user isolation, poor productivity, and inadequate access to support.

Ensuring comprehensive, scalable cover for home-based personnel, those on the road, and international travelers requires considerable resources, expense, and planning.

Putting a price on employee experience

Improving EX (employee experience) is an area for which more CIO's and IT leaders are taking greater responsibility, often collaborating with human resources.

A recent benchmark study showed that users typically lost around 3 hours of time* when they submitted an IT support ticket. In addition, 22% reported that remote working is not supported enough. That adds up to many lost hours and lots of potential for employee frustration. IT leadership needs to protect internal customers from this dissatisfaction and loss of productivity by ensuring access to a frictionless support solution.

Add a little Plus to your IT support service

How can you protect employee productivity from mishaps such as a failed battery or hard drive at the same time as you maintain control of your budget and focus on digital transformation? How can you ensure international coverage across the globe? How can you harness the power of AI insights to monitor the health of your device fleet?

You're probably asking many similar questions. Here's one single solution.
